WHAT DEFEATS PROHIBITION. Chafin Says It is the Idea That the Party Has No Chance.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Eugene W. Chafin, prohibition candidate for president, said today concerning the snowing said today concerning the snowing made by his party:

"Seven men out of ten throughout the United States are opposed to the saloons. If they had voted as they believed, there would have been a landslide carrying every prohibition candidate into office. The idea that the prohibition party has no chance of success is the thing that defeats it.

"I believe complete returns will show a substantial increase in the prohibition vote throughout the country.

Superintendent's Report of Schools. Principal J. E. Wignot of the high school and superintendent of schools in Putnam, has presented a report covering the condition of the schools and buildings in the town, and a list of recommendations that he believes past few days.
Ralph S. Young goes to Oakland should be considered. The report was inspected at an adjourned meeting of the school committee held in the of-fice of the secretary, Charles L. Tor-rey, Thursday afternoon.

Principal Wignet's report is complete and comprehensive and cumulative result of a great deal of work and thought. The idea is to so work and thought. The idea is to so arrange the course of study in schools throughout the town so as to secur informity of methods and a system inder which the pupils will, without loss of effort gradually work toward the beginning of their high school course.

NORWICH AUTOTRUCK

Breaks Through Bridge While Bound for Oakland. A four-ton auto truck, owned by a Norwich firm, loaded with about four tons of household goods, went through bridge in the eastern part of the town of Putnam Wednesday night, an it was only with considerable difficult that the heavy vehicle was lifted and again put in the way of continits trip to Oakland, R. I., to which point it was bound. The bridge that collapsed under the strain of the heavy load was a small planked one. The planks crumpled and let the rear wheels of the machine down. Selectman C. E. Pierce assisted in straightening out the tangle.

The failure of the bridge to hold up under the strain of modern highway traffic is another proof of the wisdon and advisability of adopting the methed of instructing the selectmen when making renewals of bridges or culverts hereafter to replace with reinforced concrete the wooden structures of the present time.

All highways in this section are yearly getting an increase of the heavy automobile trucking traffic and the sentiment and necessity of the case both point toward improved bride construction as fast as it can reason ably be provided.
